Suffolk Police To Deploy License Plate Readers Amid Recent Gang Slayings In Brentwood

The department plans to roll out at least 50 license plate readers across the three communities, paid for with a $1 million state grant secured by State Assemb. Phil Ramos (D-Brentwood).

Cracking down on gang violence

As a former Suffolk County police detective, Assemblyman Ramos knows the toll gang activity takes on our neighbors and families. He fights to keep us safe by helping get illegal guns off our streets, and he's led several community forums and organized a citizens' advisory board to ensure residents' voices are heard.

And thanks to a grant Assemblyman Ramos secured, there will now be license plate readers throughout Brentwood to help get criminals out of our neighborhoods and keep our families safe.

“We can’t let gangs overrun our streets. This is our home. We’ve got to come together and make sure law enforcement has the tools it needs to do its job.”
