When Governor Cuomo and the Legislature proposed taking $90 million away from the developmentally disabled and their caregivers, Michael Montesano stood up.

He knew that taking away from the most vulnerable members of society is the wrong thing to do, so he did the right thing: he put forth an amendment fully restoring funding for the developmentally disabled.

Now, he's sponsoring new legislation that takes $90 million away from Hollywood tax credits and puts it back where it belongs: with those who need it most.
