

ASSEMBLYMAN BRIAN CURRAN
WANTS TO RETURN THE

$45.2 MILLION

IN EDUCATION AID OWED
TO OUR NASSAU COUNTY

SCHOOLS!
END THE GEA NOW!

NEW YORK STATE ASSEMBLY

Since 2010, Nassau County schools lost over $134 million in state education aid because of the GAP ELIMINATION ADJUSTMENT; and $45.2 million is still owed to our schools!

ASSEMBLYMAN BRIAN CURRAN WANTS TO GET IT BACK!

“The Next Step” plan is how Assemblyman Brian Curran will fight for our students, teachers and schools in 2016:

- Eliminate the GEA immediately and restore the $45.2 million that is still owed to our Nassau County schools;
- Change the formula so we get our fair share of state education aid;
- Reform the teacher evaluation system;
- Create new state learning standards with the help and guidance of teachers, school administrators, parents, and education experts;
- Ensure all state assessments are age/developmentally appropriate and of the highest quality;
- Increase the transparency of the state’s testing program and protect teachers and students from the negative effects of testing until major reforms are made;
- Give back local control of our children’s learning curriculum to our teachers; and
- Ensure our children’s sports, music, and after-school programs are not at risk.
