

“Being a public servant means holding yourself accountable to the highest standards of conduct. That is why I passed a new law removing the pensions of corrupt politicians.”

-Assemblyman Ron Kim

Assemblyman Kim fought for new laws to clean up corruption

Removed taxpayer-funded pensions from corrupt politicians (A.10739-A)

Reduced big money in politics by regulating PACs and “independent expenditure groups”
(A.10742)

Increased disclosure for lobbyists to ensure better transparency

Assemblyman Kim
will also keep fighting to close the “LLC loophole”
and stop wealthy special interests from influencing elections.
