Dear Fellow Motorist:

Whether you're looking for a parking space in Manhattan or just leaving your car parked in Brooklyn, the 2016 New York City Parking Calendar can be helpful to you, especially with so many new holidays recently added the past few years.

This calendar lists the days of the year that certain parking regulations are suspended throughout the five boroughs. It's important that you carefully read the posted sign nearest to where you park your car; sometimes more than one.

Adhering to parking regulations will save you the time and money associated with receiving a ticket and/or being towed away. It will also allow the streets to be cleaned and the traffic to be less congested.

I hope you will be able to put this calendar to good use. Please remember to drive safely and don't forget to buckle up.

Your Assemblyman,

Street Cleaning Rules

New York City suspends alternate side parking regulations, for both street cleaning purposes and traffic flow, on the legal and religious holidays listed above. It is illegal to park within 15 feet of either side of a fire hydrant. Double parking of passenger vehicles is illegal at all times, including street cleaning days. Be responsible and park legally.

Major Legal Holidays

On major legal holidays, stopping, standing and parking are permitted except in areas where stopping, standing and parking rules are in effect seven days a week (for example, "No Standing Anytime"). Accordingly, parking meters will not be in effect on major legal holidays.
