Addressing the child care crisis in

Assemblywoman Latrice Monique Walker has a plan that puts families first Paid family leave. Working parents deserve the flexibility to take care of their loved ones.

Making child care more affordable. The cost of child care is stretching families' budgets too thin.

Enhancing the quality of child care. Children need safe, nurturing child care that parents can depend on.

Increasing access to child care. We need to fund more slots to make it easier for parents to find reliable child care.

“Hardworking families need quality, affordable child care and paid family leave. I’m fighting for better child care in New York so our families can have peace of mind.”
