

“There ought to be a law”

You've undoubtedly said, “There ought to be a law” many times. Here's your chance to submit your idea, with the possibility it becomes law.

Many of the laws now on the books originated from ideas expressed by private citizens. Some issues lend themselves to legislative solutions that we may be able to promote.

I hope you take advantage of this opportunity by filling out the form on the other side of this card and mailing it to me. I look forward to hearing from you.
