

A black and white photograph of Assemblyman Steve McLaughlin, a middle-aged man with short, light-colored hair, wearing a light-colored button-down shirt. He is standing outdoors in front of a brick building with large windows. He is engaged in conversation with two women whose backs are to the camera. The woman on the left has long, wavy hair, and the woman on the right has long, straight hair. The scene is captured in a candid, conversational moment.

You sent me to Albany to protect your family from our corrupt, anti-business, high-tax government. I’ve fought hard for our values. I’ve been the loudest voice advocating for the middle class on issues ranging from taxes, to education, to fighting corruption.

- My commitment to education reform has been steadfast. I support repealing and replacing the poorly-implemented Common Core, and I remain one of the strongest voices calling for the elimination of the unfair cuts to education known as the Gap Elimination Adjustment (GEA).
- For years, corruption and scandal have damaged state government. When elected officials break the law, they deserve the boot. That’s why I support legislation that would require politicians convicted of breaching the public trust to forfeit their pensions and retirement benefits (A.08173).
- When Albany wanted to hand out $420 million to Hollywood movie producers and take away $90 million from the developmentally disabled, I fought and was successful in fully restoring unfair cuts to the Office for People With Developmental Disabilities (OPWDD).
- I led the charge against the Governor’s ill-conceived plan to give convicts a free college education while middle-class families struggled to put their children through college. I’m proud to report that we won that good fight.
