Dear Neighbor,

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself as your new representative in the New York State Assembly. Last year's redistricting brings the towns of Aurelius, Montezuma and Sennett into the newly-created 130th Assembly District, but I can assure you I am no stranger to Cayuga County or state government. I have represented the towns of Brutus, Cato, Conquest, Ira, Mentz, Sterling and Victory for the past 10 years. I am in my 11th term in the Assembly. Prior to that, I was Wayne County Clerk.

My priorities in the Assembly have included improving New York State's economic environment and the agricultural industry, as well as strengthening local government services. I am a strong advocate for reducing taxes, enhancing educational opportunities and achieving government reforms. I am the ranking minority member of the Assembly's Ways and Means Committee.

I am a native of North Rose in Wayne County, where I was raised on a fifth-generation family farm. I now reside in the Town of Macedon with my wife, Judy. We have two grown sons.

The work I do in Albany is important, but my commitment to constituent service and help with state government issues here at home is central to what I believe a state representative should do. If you should ever need assistance with a state-related issue, please do not hesitate to contact me.

I hope you can attend one of my upcoming town meetings. I look forward to meeting you and serving as your Assemblyman.

Regards,
