ASSEMBLYMAN

KEITH P. BROWN

Preserving our environment and restoring the Long Island Sound are two of Keith's top priorities when representing us in Albany. In this year's legislative session, Keith fought for, and won, policies that take significant steps in the right direction toward a sustainable and clean New York.

As your Assemblyman, Keith has been on the front lines in Albany pushing for legislation to help clean up the Long Island Sound and secure a cleaner environment for generations to come. This year was a busy time for environmental policies and Keith was able to be a part of passing crucial legislation to:

- ✓ Help to reduce vehicle emissions across New York State by promoting the sale of zero-emissions and more energy efficient cars, trucks and SUVs. (A.4302)
- ✓ Regulate the use and disposal of harmful chemicals and debris used in manufacturing and commercial operations. (A.953, A.978)
- ✓ Reduce the use of wasteful single-use plastic containers and incentivize state agencies to research and establish better recycling practices and alternative disposal techniques –like composting. (A.5082, A.5605 and A.6333)

If you care about the environment like I do, and have ideas on how we can work together to clean up our community and our state, email me at: brownk@nyassembly.gov, or contact my office at 75 Woodbine Avenue, Northport, NY 11768, or call (631) 261-4151.
