

“Our Long Island
environment is facing unprecedented threats.

That’s why I am working hard to protect the air we breathe, the water we drink and our precious environment from the dangers of a rapidly changing climate, now and for generations to come.”

Assemblyman Steve Stern is working hard to protect our precious environment

During the 2019 legislative session, Assemblyman Stern:

- ✓ co-sponsored and passed the Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act, the strongest, most aggressive effort in the nation to address climate change, reduce greenhouse gas emissions and incentivize renewable and sustainable energy
- ✓ co-sponsored and passed legislation to prohibit household cleaning, cosmetic and personal care products that contain toxic, cancer-causing 1,4-dioxane, which contaminates our sole source aquifer and the water we drink
- ✓ co-sponsored and passed the Save Our Waters Act to prohibit offshore oil drilling in our beautiful Long Island coastal waters that threatens marine life and our Long Island economy
- ✓ passed a state budget that includes vital funding for the Clean Water Infrastructure Act to replace antiquated and dilapidated water systems and ensure the safety of our sole source aquifer
