EDUCATION HOLDS THE KEY TO SUCCESS

Assemblyman Dave McDonough has fought hard for our children because he knows education is critical for their future success. He also understands that more must be done to keep the cost of education affordable to taxpayers. This year he:

- Helped provide Long Island with its fair share of state school aid by securing $2.5 billion in funding;
- Made college more affordable by safeguarding nearly $1 billion for New York's tuition assistance programs;
- Fought to lower taxes by proposing to cap tax rates for seniors;
- Worked to empower our local teachers, parents and school officials, so that our children's education isn't held hostage by bureaucrats;
- Supported tougher penalties for those who bully other students; and
- Advocated for tax relief for donations to schools, local education funds, and educational scholarship organizations, as well as tax credits for certain expenses incurred by teachers who purchase materials and supplies for classroom use.
