KEEPING SOUTHERN BROOKLYN SAFE

Public safety is on everyone's mind. Families, business owners, and commuters deserve peace of mind knowing that our streets, subways, and college campuses are safe and secure. Assemblyman Alec Brook-Krasny has been a strong supporter of law enforcement and policies that would help clean up our city. As your assemblyman, Alec has supported numerous initiatives aimed at keeping Southern Brooklyn safe.

Alec's Public Safety Plan

- Provided the state police with the necessary funding in the state budget to combat retail theft¹
- Make more dangerous incarcerated individuals serve their time and stay off our streets²
- Backed a law deterring shoplifters and supporting the creation of the crime of assaulting a retail employee and selling stolen goods³
- Allow judges to consider a defendant's "dangerousness" when determining pre-trial release⁴
- Combat serial shoplifting at our businesses by strengthening petty larceny charges⁵
- Supported our multi-million-dollar investment in mental health and homeless services⁶
