

Across the country, federal law enforcement is being used to instill fear and paranoia in our communities, with masked agents kidnapping people off our streets. We have seen it in Los Angeles, we have seen it in Chicago, and we know NEW YORK IS NEXT.

While these raids across other urban centers have caused real horror, they also give us hope – and a blueprint for resistance. Even in the trial raids in the City, such as the one on Canal Street, it was New Yorkers who banded together to defend our community. We must be ready for the "enforcement actions" to escalate, we must be organized.

That is why, in partnership with fellow local elected officials and West Side community organizations, we are hosting a training and canvassing session this Saturday.

What: Join us for a community canvass to educate local business owners and managers about constitutional rights and how to protect employees and customers during an ICE raid.

When: 2:30 - 5:00 pm (training starts at 2:30)

Where: Address provided upon RSVP
