

ASSEMBLYMEMBER CHRISTOPHER EACHUS: FIGHTING AGAINST CONGESTION PRICING

“For too long, the Hudson Valley has been overtaxed and underserviced by the MTA. Congestion Pricing would have been a burden for our commuters, and I am glad to have been able to help stop it.”

ASSEMBLYMEMBER CHRISTOPHER EACHUS LEADS THE WAY TO THE INDEFINITE PAUSE OF CONGESTION PRICING

From his first day in office, it has been Assemblymember Eachus' top priority to reverse New York's Congestion Pricing Tax plan. Residents of Orange and Rockland counties have historically overpaid for the MTA. That's why he fought to put a stop to the proposal to charge drivers $15 to enter Lower Manhattan. This indefinite pause is a win for Hudson Valley commuters and their working-class families.

To stop Congestion Pricing permanently, Assemblymember Eachus introduced legislation that:

- ✓ Exempts Orange and Rockland County residents from any future congestion tolling plans (A.9300)
- ✓ Repeals the Metropolitan Commuter Transportation Mobility Tax, which would relieve up to $800 million in unnecessary tax burdens on New York families and businesses (A.9937)

Questions? Concerns? I'm here to help!
