

21st Century: Jobs. Skills. Education.

New York's Jobs, Skills and Education must match today's economy...

KEN State Assemblyman
BLANKENBUSH

Jobs

New York job creators, especially in manufacturing and hi-tech manufacturing, say there aren't enough qualified workers to fill the jobs they have and want to create in order to grow their businesses.

Skills

These employers are looking for workers skilled in WELDING, MACHINING, PLUMBING, and ELECTRICAL WORK. Jobs using these skills are the backbone of New York's economy.

Education

Our public education system should benefit all students and help them discover career or higher education paths that will work for them. New York State's high school diploma structure needs to change to recognize the value of career-oriented education through our BOCES programs.

21st Century:

Assemblyman Ken Blankenbush is establishing a bipartisan effort to introduce the 21st Century Education Initiative.

Ken's goal is simple:

- Keep our youth in school to graduate with Career and Technical High School Diplomas.
- Give them valuable and marketable skills.
- Get them in good jobs that will help rebuild our economy.

Be a part of the 21st Century solution

Sign the 21st Century Education Initiative petition to help get our students skills for the jobs in our new economy.
