Honorable Carl Heastie
Speaker, New York State Assembly
932 Legislative Office Building
Albany, New York 12248

Dear Speaker Heastie,

I am pleased to submit the 2019 Annual Report for the Assembly's Standing Committee on Governmental Employees. Throughout the years, it has been my long-standing priority as Chairman of the Committee to introduce and support legislative initiatives to strengthen the state, local and municipal workforces and provide financial stability to New Yorkers and their families. Included herein are details of the Committee's legislative work undertaken during the 2019 Session year.

As a long-standing advocate of women's rights, New York is also the leading state in the country with the lowest gender pay gap. However, much work remains to ensure pay equity for all New Yorkers. As in past years, the Committee in coalition with local advocates has continued such tireless work and advanced a progressive Equal Pay legislative package. This package included legislation to extend a private right of action to public employees as a means of enforcing their right to equal pay for substantially similar work and ensure state compliance with the federal Equal Pay Act of 1963 and the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Chapter 743 of the Laws of 2019), direct the Department of Civil Service to examine the existence of wage disparities among civil service job titles segregated by gender and race/ethnicity identification (Chapter 637 of the Laws of 2019) and charge the Director of Classification and Compensation with the duty to ensure public employees receive fair and equal compensation for substantially similar work, regardless of status in a protected class (Chapter 741 of the Laws of 2019).

Another notable achievement is the passage of a number of legislative proposals that address the health challenges that many of the state and local uniformed personnel face as a result of their dedicated service to their communities. Legislation such as Chapter 249 of the Laws of 2019 that help expedite the review process of disability claims submitted to the New York City Employees' Retirement System, and Chapter 251 of the Laws of 2019 that finally codifies into law much-needed line of duty sick leave benefits for certain individuals who participated in the World Trade Center rescue, recovery and cleanup operations. The Committee has also remained committed in its mission to support all veterans who are employed or reside in New York. In recognizing the immense sacrifice that these brave individuals have made, the Committee has advanced legislation such as Chapter 486 of the Laws of 2019, which would ensure veterans with disabilities have access to public employment, and Chapter 484 of the Laws of 2019 to allow individuals with up to seven years of military service to meet the age requirements for certain employment.

Lastly, the Committee and Assembly have continued to support and protect the constitutional right of public employees to organize and collectively bargain. The Legislature in conjunction with the Executive, enacted measures into the budget that protect the private and personal information of all public employees, as well as Chapter 64 of the Laws of 2019, which extends public employees' right to petition before the state or city Public Employees Relations Boards and receive injunctive relief in the event of an improper employer practice.

This is a small sampling of the legislation the Committee has reported this year, highlighting its commitment to the working men and women in our state. This annual report provides greater details on the Committee's accomplishments and reports on the various legislative proposals considered by the Committee this year.

I would like to thank the Committee members and staff for all their hard work and dedication to our state's public employees. Additionally, I would like to thank the public employee organizations, unions and the many government officials who helped make this year a successful one. I look forward to continuing to serve as the Committee chair.

I also thank you for your guidance and support, which was vital to the accomplishments of the committee during the 2019 Legislative Session.

Sincerely,

COMMITTEE SUMMARY

The New York State Assembly Standing Committee on Governmental Employees oversees legislation and issues concerning the civil service law and the public pension and retirement systems.

Throughout the 2019 Legislative Session, the Committee strived to protect the rights and provide basic workplace protections to all employees and officers across the State of New York. In order to complete our mission, we have worked earnestly to pass legislation that relates to the fair and equal compensation of public employees, disciplinary and hearing proceedings, civil service examinations and appointments, disability and retirement benefits for uniformed employees, the right to organize collective bargaining units, and the ratification of collective bargaining agreements. This Committee has also reviewed legislation altering pension and disability benefits and eligibility for such benefits for certain members of the public pension and retirement systems. Through our work, the Committee seeks to enhance the governing structure of pension systems as well as maintain their sustainability.

Additionally, the Committee on Governmental Employees is responsible for the mandate of legislative initiatives protecting the individuals our communities rely on the most: our public safety personnel. Our police, fire, sanitation, emergency medical technician, and corrections workers risk their lives to protect our citizens and maintain the much-needed services New Yorkers rely on every day. In recognition of their ultimate sacrifice, our Committee has advanced legislation that aims to enhance the effectiveness and efficiency of the law enforcement, public safety and security organizations located within New York State.

During the 2019 Legislative Session, a total of 243 legislative proposals were referred to the Committee on Governmental Employees. The Committee reported 68 bills. Of those proposals, 44 passed both Houses. Of those, 24 were chaptered and 18 were vetoed.

I. FAIR WAGES AND PAY EQUITY

The New York State Department of Labor's Closing the Gender Wage 2018 study report revealed that, despite significant progress in New York to advance fair pay and economic opportunities, women continue to be disproportionately employed in lower salary brackets in the public sector state workforce. In particular, women of color were less likely to receive or have access to opportunities for promotion or advancement. Recognizing that work still remains, the Assembly has continued to advance legislation to ensure equality in wages for all New Yorkers.
